Welcome to the Wheelock College Library. The Library serves as a gateway to knowledge, supporting our core values of providing information resources and services designed to meet the community’s curricular, research, and professional needs.

The Library has developed a variety of online services and points of contact to support the information needs of students in the national, regional, and international programs. We encourage you to use the entire website, but we have set up a page with links to services and resources that may be of particular assistance to students in the cohort programs.

The web page, http://www.wheelock.edu/library/liusing/linriprog.asp, is divided into the following sections:

- Find Articles, which includes links to nearly 40 databases, the full-text journal finder for complete text of articles from 21,000-plus periodicals, Google Scholar, and information on InterLibrary Loan services.
- Find Books and Other Materials, featuring links to libraries located near the cohort programs and the Library’s online reference shelf of e-books.
- Research Help, including links to websites selected by Library staff as being of particular interest in various subject areas, guides to creating proper citations for research papers, frequently asked questions about conducting research, and information on how to contact the Reference staff for assistance.
- About the Library, which offers links to the Library’s staff page, an online suggestion box for comments or feedback, a help page and the site index for the Library’s web pages.

Access to online databases and full-text journals is restricted to Wheelock students, faculty, staff, and cohorts. If you are prompted for a Username/ID and Password, enter your Wheelock email login name and password to sign in. If you are unable to connect, please contact the Library for assistance.

Additionally, we have contracted with college and university libraries near the program sites to allow borrowing privileges. See the Libraries Near Your Program page at http://www.wheelock.edu/library/liusing/liremote_libraries.asp for more information.

Reference staff members can provide assistance with finding and accessing information. They are available for consultation and advice in developing search strategies and navigating online resources. You can contact them by phone at (617) 879-2222, by email at reference@wheelock.edu, or by AIM at screen name wcIreference.

Please do not hesitate to contact the Library if you have any additional suggestions on how we can provide further service to you in your studies. We look forward to working with you.
